SUCCESS INDICATORS:

Graduation data for all programs:

Smartly Institute admits new classes of students to each degree program at regular intervals throughout the year, with approximately 7 classes of students per program expected in 2018. Programs are designed for working professionals, with enough flexibility to accommodate the obligations of daily life. In the event that a student is unable to dedicate the proper amount of time to a program, the student may defer to a future cohort. Deferrals may be done up to two times before the student must re-apply to a new program. For the purpose of graduation data, students are allowed to defer and continue study up to 3 years after the start of their initial enrollment in a program. Consistent with these standards, the following tables present the enrollment and graduation data by year of enrollment for each of Smartly Institute’s degree programs.

Master of Business Administration (MBA) Degree
Data as of August 2018

Calendar Year of Enrollment	Number of Students at Enrollment Deadline	Number of Students Graduated	Number of Students Available for Graduation ¹	Graduation Rate (Projected) ²
2016	375	234	7	(64%)
2017	825	333	187	(63%)
2018	510	25	485	(95%)

Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA) Degree
Data as of August 2018

Calendar Year of Enrollment	Number of Students at Enrollment Deadline	Number of Students Graduated	Number of Students Available for Graduation ¹	Graduation Rate (Projected) ²
2017	342	62	238	(88%)
2018	543	0	530	(98%)

¹ Number of students available for graduation is defined as all students enrolled in the given calendar year minus those that have already graduated, failed, or otherwise dropped out. It includes deferred students that are expected to graduate within the 3-year window of completion.

² Owing to the 3-year window for graduation from start date of program and no programs having yet been in operation for over 3 years, graduation rates are projections based on number of students currently graduated or available for graduation divided by number of students initially enrolled in the program.

Student Satisfaction Survey

Smartly Institute uses several surveys to measure student satisfaction during and after the program. In addition, Smartly Institute asks the following three-question, true-false survey to all students after the end of the program term:

1. Did you achieve, or will you have achieved upon completing your studies, the goals you had when you started this course or program?
2. Would you recommend these studies to a friend?
3. All things considered, were you satisfied with your studies with us?

Answers are summarized below for the July 2018 survey, sent to all students whose term was concluded at that time.
